

Face Painting – How to Face Paint.

Face painting is a fun activity, great for birthday parties or when you're just feeling creative. Learning how to face paint isn't too hard after some practice and kids love it as do the adults! But remember to use the right paints that are safe for use on the skin.

You should only buy/use face paint that's specially made for the face and body. The most important thing to look out for when buying face paint is whether or not they comply with various authorities in your country (e.g. U.S. FDA.) within the guidelines for use on the skin. Water based face paint is the most popular and easiest to wash off – It's used by people just starting to learn how to face paint and by professional face painters.

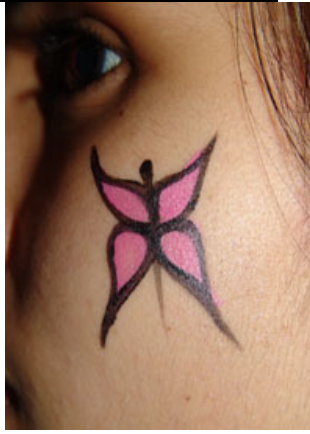

Here are is a face painting design of a small and simple butterfly that you can try at home.

Butterfly Face Painting Design Steps:

Step 1:

With a small paintbrush take some pink paint and paint the wings of the butterfly.

Step 2:

Take a paintbrush with a pointed tip and use black paint to outline the butterfly and paint a vertical line for the body.

Step 3:

With the same paintbrush with a pointed tip, use black paint to the antennae.

And that's all there is to it!

By Philadelphia Tivoli Copyright 2006

For more fantastic face painting designs, and to learn [how to face paint - check out these free face painting lessons! Click on this link to learn more: <http://www.facepaintingtips.com>]